Questions Discussed at Meeting of Commercial Club.

Electric Lights for Jeffersontown a Possibility—Better Mail Service Proposed—Streets and Alleys to be Cleaned.

At the regular meeting of the Jeffersontown Commercial Club Monday night many questions of vital interest to this community came up for discussion. The president, W. J. Semonin, presided and every member present took an active part in the meeting.

Secretary Wm. R. Bryan read a letter from Mr. J. B. McFerran, which was well received by the Club and in which Mr. McFerran suggested some needed improvements for Jeffersontown. The letter will be published in our next issue. A letter from Mr. J. W. Great-house, of Louisville, addressed to Dr. L. A. Blankenbaker and referred to the Club, stated that interested parties would install an electric light plant in Jeffersontown. The town trustees and citizens of the town showed the proper interest in the matter and would give sufficient inducement to the proposition. Quite a lengthy discussion of this matter was made and all the members favored doing all that could be done to get the plant. The letter was referred to the committee on mercantile and manufacturing interests, of which J. C. Bruce is chairman, and the matter was taken up with the town trustees Tuesday night. At this meeting the trustees agreed to give a free franchise for twenty years and exempt the electric light company from any taxation for ten years.

Another matter that was brought before the town trustees was the fact that citizens of the town were not keeping the trash and rubbish cleaned up in front of their property, thus violating an ordinance passed some time since by the board. The committee named to confer with the trustees called attention to boxes, paper, etc., left on the streets by some of the merchants and said this was very unsightly and did not make a very favorable impression upon strangers daily coming to our town with a view of locating here. The Club proposes to set a day for general cleaning up of the town and desired to know from the trustees whether or not they would enforce the ordinance prohibiting property holders and renters from throwing trash on the streets if this was done.

Another very important matter that came up for discussion was the improvement in our mail service. Mr. Semonin reported that he had been conferring with the postoffice and city railway authorities and that he thought within another month the citizens of this place would be getting their mails over the electric line instead of the St. Louis railroad and that the mails would come sooner and oftener. The Club is still working on this proposition, and if successful will render a great service to Jeffersontown, as the mail service at this time is very poor.

The action of the Fiscal Court some time ago voting in favor of removing the hill in front of Mrs. Pounds lot in Livingston Heights and filling the low place on the Taylorsville road in front of the place occupied by Mr. Wm. Black was favorably commented upon by members of the Club, but no action was taken because it was stated that Mr. Chas. C. Wheeler, magistrate from this district, was working on the matter and had said that he would attend to it.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on the next regular meeting night, April 3, unless called together sooner by the president.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

FREIGHT DEPOT

Interurban Railroad Company Removed from Jefferson Street to Green, East of Brook.

The new freight depot of the Louisville & Interurban Railroad Company, in Green street, east of Brook was opened to the public Monday, and incoming and outgoing freight and express will hereafter be handled by the company at this point.

Freight and express will no longer be received nor delivered at the station on Jefferson street, between Third and Fourth avenues, and the old Louisville & Eastern freight depot at 245 West Green street has been abandoned.

The new structure is commodious and modern in every detail. It is thirty-five feet wide and extends from Green street to Pearl street, a distance of 200 feet. Offices will be in the Green street end of the building, which is two stories high with basement. The main floor will be occupied by the freight and billing offices. The offices of General Freight and Express Agent Richard H. Wyatt and his assistant, W. B. Meek, will be located up stairs.

The new depot is almost directly across the street from Haymarket square and is located conveniently for truck dealers and commission men who do business there. It will be used by all the divisions of the Louisville Interurban Railroad Company, which include the lines to Lagrange, Shelbyville, Prospect, Jeffersonville, Fern Creek, Orell and Okolona. Sixteen express trains, of one or more cars each, will arrive and depart from the depot each day.

Interurban and suburban electric traffic and transportation have grown wonderfully since the organization of the Louisville & Interurban Railroad Company in 1903. The company now operates over about fifty miles of suburban track, and its different properties represent an investment, it is said, of more than $3,000,000.

Interurban and suburban electric traffic and transportation have grown wonderfully since the organization of the Louisville & Interurban Railroad Company in 1903. The company now operates over about fifty miles of suburban track, and its different properties represent an investment, it is said, of more than $3,000,000.

Lecture at Vaughn's Hall.

Rev. P. B. Ellsworth will lecture at Vaughn's Hall next Monday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Admission 10 cents. These lectures are illustrated with the stereopticon and are very interesting.

Entertained at Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Young and daughter, Miss Rosa, entertained at supper Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Young and baby, Mrs. Emma Driver and daughter, Miss Lillian, of Deer Park, Mr. John Feenush, of Buechel, Mr. Chas. Thomas and Mr. Maddox, of Worthington.

Returned from Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Bliven, of Buechel, arrived from Florida on the 14th of March, after a pleasant visit of several weeks in Florida. They visited Mr. Jack Funk, formerly of Jeffersontown, but now of Lake City, Florida. They also met Mr. Funk's sister, Mrs. Shaffer, of Jeffersontown.

Hikes' Point.

March 7.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Graff entertained a few of their friends in honor of their nieces, Misses Helen Schneider and Alma Dellinger. Those present were Misses Emma Belle and Theresa Deimler, Katharine Graff, Alma Dellinger and Helen Schneider; Messs. S. Louis Hock, Louis and Fred Graff, Carl Deimer and Wilbert Clark. The evening was delightfully spent by all.

Boys Stock in Stone Company

The Southern Asphaltum Road Company last week purchased about one-half of the stock of the Jefferson County Stone Company, located at Tucker's Station. The company will continue in business under the same firm name as heretofore, and the prospects are bright for a good business year. This company has supplied stone for some of the largest buildings in the city and elsewhere and are prepared to turn out first-class work.

Sunbeams.

We want all of you present at our meeting next Sunday afternoon. Subject—God our strength. For benefit of those who have not been attending regularly I want to say we are going to have a Sunbeam Library and I hope every "Sunbeam" will assist in this by bringing some good book from your home. I also ask that the parents induce their children to bring good literature before the children and make our work more interesting. We are also planning an egg hunt for the pleasure of the little members of our club, to be given on Saturday afternoon.

I want the mothers to join me in making this a pleasant day for the little ones by allowing each child to bring some eggs. The eggs brought will be counted and divided and one-half will be put in a little wagon to be sold for our mission work, the other half will be used for the pleasure of the children. The child finding the largest number of eggs will be allowed to pull the Sunbeam wagon to the store, followed by the other Sunbeams. Who will pull the Sunbeam wagon?

The residence of Mr. William Wheeler was visited by thieves Saturday morning shortly after 10:30 o'clock. Thirty-two dollars and a number of small articles of jewelry were taken. The thief is supposed to have gained entrance through a front door which was open at the time. Miss Mary Wheeler and a cousin, Mrs. Bettie Williams, were in another part of the house at the time. They heard some one in the rooms, but thinking it was Mr. Wheeler, never went in at the time, but on entering the rooms soon after, found the thieves had ransacked and the money and jewelry were missing. The county police are working on the case.

AN ORDINANCE.

Be it ordained by the Board of Trustees of the Town of Jeffersontown that on and after March 7th, 1911, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to erect, build or remodel a building within one hundred feet of any building for the purpose of blacksmithing within the corporate limits of the Town of Jeffersontown.

For violation of said ordinance a fine of not less than ten dollars or more than twenty-five dollars for each and every day. Each day the violation is continued shall constitute a separate offense.

With a new, twelve story hotel to be built in Louisville this last week back to erect an annex it looks like Louisville is looking up and growing to be quite a city. Kentucky's metropolis has a great future before it, for the city is waking up to its possibilities. —Frankfort News-Journal.

The different clubs of the city and county, literary and otherwise, are living examples of what men and women are doing to better the mind of the race, and in broadening touch lives and cause them at least to form some conception of what our mission is in the world—M. F. J. to the contrary notwithstanding. The men and women should first work for the best comforts of the home, but they should not stop there.

The Democratic State Executive Committee did a wise thing last Friday when it met in Louisville and let the primary stand. A primary is the only way to give the voters a chance to nominate the man of their choice, and on this occasion the committee had a double reason for deciding as they did before. The Democrats in the state are somewhat in a middle now and if a convention had been called that would have been adding fuel to the flame.

In writing of the impression of outsiders of Louisville women in the Louisville Times recently Elizabeth Hobson Hall paid a high tribute to the ladies of the city and at the same time taught a mighty good lesson to others when she said: "A striking feature is the refinement and common sense of Louisville's women. While occasionally you meet a monstrosity in the shape of a horrible skirt under an umbrella hat, it is notably an exception. The great majority are uniformly clad and impress you as real women, with higher aims than the mere display of dry goods."

LOUISVILLE is making a strong bid for the next Democratic National convention, and it is hoped by every true Kentuckian that the metropolis of the state will be successful in bringing this great body here. A few of the pessimistic people say that Louisville can not accommodate the large number of delegates in a National Convention. The Army will house the crowds and as the city is well supplied with hotel accommodations we see no reason why there need be any alarm about taking care of the people when they come. If there is an overflow in Louisville, a large number could be sent out in the country on the interurban cars. Jeffersontown could take a few in.

We wonder how many of our boys realize that land is going fast—boys brought up to think that land in America can never be scarce, that when they have played out at everything else they can somewhere get a piece of land for nothing and the next day be a prosperous farmer. It can with difficulty be made to see it. In 1865 there were but little over 81,000,000 acres under cultivation in the United States. To-day the cultivated acres number over 220,000,000, and these acres are not only the best, but they are fast going up in value beyond the reach of men of small means. Keen-scented corporations snuffing the evitable battle from afar are turning their attention to the land, and greedily buying whole counties with no idea of ever letting an acre go, but the boy who thinks he is made for something higher looks calmly on thinking that he will be plenty left for him should he ever have to stoop to it. The sons of half-starved teachers, lawyers, traders and others, who are unsuccessful in their over-crowded callings, are turning to our country lands and realize that what they nor their parents have known never before—truly independent homes.

A HANDSOME souvenir edition of the Evening Independent at St. Petersburg, Fla., was issued Feb. 22 by its publishers, Messrs. Lew B. and C. L. Brown. This edition comprises thirty-six pages and is printed on good paper and handsomely illustrated. It is replete with interesting write-ups of St. Petersburg, the lovely southern "sunshine" city, and showing many pictures of its people, handsome homes and buildings and lovely scenery. This splendid edition should prove of incalculable benefit to this lovely city by bringing its many advantages before the public—especially the people of other states—and should be a source of pride to its energetic and up-to-date publishers. Lew B. Brown, editor-in-chief of the Independent, is an ex-Kentuckian and known and loved by the whole newspaper fraternity of this state, having served as president of the Kentucky Press Association and also successfully conducted several newspapers here before going to Florida. His success in St. Petersburg is very gratifying to his host of friends back here, but is not unexpected or unearned, for he is one of the most brilliant and efficient newspaper men in harness today. The Independent would be a credit to any city under the stars of St. Petersburg, and, with the proper backing by its citizens, will grow to even greater heights under the guidance of its bustling publishers.

Old Jeffersontown is fast becoming a new Jeffersontown. During the past five years this place has more than doubled in population, and the majority of the new-comers are citizens of first-rank—that is, people who are up-to-date and believe in doing things both for themselves and their neighbors. The Jefferson Heights Land Company will put on the market this spring one of the most beautiful subdivisions in the county. Work of making the streets and walks is fast drawing to a close, and the site has been laid out by experts in the business. It is located within one block of a public square, and when the lots are offered for sale they will be, doubtless, picked up in a hurry. A beautiful five-acre lot will be given absolutely free to the public school here by Messrs. McFerran and Sprowl, and the citizens of the town and community will see that a model school building is erected. In addition to giving the lot Mr. McFerran has said that he would give to the school every cent of profit that he makes from the sales of the lots. This is a very generous gift on the part of these two men and the citizens of the town should show their appreciation by boosting Jefferson Heights. We understand that building restrictions will be enforced, which will cause suitable houses to be erected. Many additions will be added to our fast-growing little town as a result of the opening up of this tract. Let every resident talk up the town and community and then the new comers will be the best class of people.

A STRANGE PEOPLE.

In the land of Reality there is situated a village named Facts. It is bounded on the North by political and religious heredities; on the South by ignorance and indifference; on the East by social conditions and environments which beset the "dwellers of sticks"; on every hand: on the West by old fogies, knackers and peddlars.

It is a beautiful little village, comprised of about twenty-five houses, a church, schoolhouse, blacksmith shop, grocery, drug store, two mills, a painter, carpenter, doctor; also, a fine cemetery, so well kept (I mean to say would be fine if well attended to). This little village has about all the necessary articles to form an ideal place called "home sweet home."

The inhabitants are descendants from nearly all the European countries. The humor of the Irish, the industry of the German, the frivolous fashion, polite manners of the French, the energy and determination of Briton, the cunning and trailing of the Spaniard, the vain and boastful of Spain, and the blind fatalism of a Turk (especially on politics and religion). All of these characteristics interwoven and blended together make the energetic "non thinking" American voter.

We can boast of many wonderful characters, while the majority have remained deep down in the rut of Father Time's wheel—yet, quite a number have gone forth in joy and gladness, with money in their clothes to conquer and gain fame and become rich as Croesus, but all their home coming was like the prodigal son, a wise but a man without the coin, and those who are yet away you may tell by their letters home for they still look back to the Village of Facts as a devout old follower of Mohammed looks toward Mecca. The many different individualities would surprise you here. We have good, bad and indifferent. Yet, taking her as a whole, she can truthfully host of a God-fearing, quiet, law-abiding citizenship.

There are some of the finest building sites you could wish for (but a very few buildings). It is unfortunately situated in regard to means of transportation—just about half way between two car lines, four miles from either one (country miles at that). Yet, we look on down through coming time when all other roads leading to the city will have electric cars and when there is no other place to put one probably the Brownsboro pike will have one, and we will be very thankful indeed. So, you see, we have a very patient and hopeful disposition.

With all these drawbacks and disadvantages we can look about us and count our many blessings. They will outnumber the disadvantages. First, living far from the river, we are never bothered by floods; second, we have a fine healthy climate, never a cloud-burst, or washouts, never a drought or famine, earthquake, volcano, never too cold, never too hot, and no deep snow.

The principal occupation is farming and truck gardening. Among the things raised are corn, wheat, potatoes, onions, tobacco—also, the tariff; political shouts and health foods, the necessities of life, or a six shooter, Kentucky ry, and highballs; also, raise an umbrella and occasionally when too large a harvest of rice and highballs, raise a little bit, but very seldom.

The mean annual temperature is democratic, but subject to sudden changes. Dark clouds of republicanism sometimes overshadow, but God lives and "something" is in the Whitehouse.

One great peculiarity is the warm winds (but air) that blows so often, the cause is probably due to some star (political); probably a sun (of a gun); sometimes keen flashes of lightning (from beautiful eyes); once in a great while, it is accompanied by loud thunder, especially when papa objects to and looks not favorably on the would-be son-in-law and seeks after a girl of worth (the more she is worth the better).

Here is to be found the jolly and pompous doctor, the pious Christian, the hypocrite, the bluff politician, the noble factor, smiling merchant, the dusty miller (gold dust), the old soldier, the village clock (liar), the colonel, the cigarette boy, the rube, the inventor, the sport, working bee, would be and drone. The many stunts and wonderful sayings, especially of the liar and cigarette boy, would make volumes if jotted down as heard at the store and shop.

If you, dear reader, think you can stand them in broken doses, I will boil them down and give you a very brief description and hand them out like a quick doctor at a county fair.

Bye-bye; pardon my space-taking. I will be more brief in the future. I am yours truly, a hypocrite acting the role of a spectator.

Mr. Hannah Risinger Dead.

Mr. Hannah Risinger, aged 93 years, died at his home near Hope, well last night at 5:45 o'clock, death resulting from infirmities due to old age. She was one of the best known women in the county. Full particulars will be given next week.

Death of Old Resident.

Miss Angela Chamberlain passed away at her home in Washington Monday and the interment took place in the cemetery at that place Tuesday afternoon. Miss Chamberlain was 91 years of age. A full account of her life and death will be given in our next issue.

Race Mail in Foot.

Mr. J. W. Sutt, senior member of the well known shoe firm of Sutt & Son, Louisville, last week accidentally ran a nail into his foot and as a consequence has been compelled to get about on crutches for the past several days. The nail was healing nicely, however, and he expects to be "on his feet" in a few days.

Ladies' Aid Entertained.

Mrs. A. C. Durr entertained the Ladies' Aid of the Lutheran church Monday. The table was beautifully decorated in white and green. Covers were laid for the following: Mrs. F. D. Durr, Mrs. W. E. W. F. M. S. Elects Officers.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society held a most delightful meeting at the home of Mrs. Lillie Bridwell Tuesday afternoon and after the regular business of the society an election of officers was held. Mrs. Mollie Kennedy was elected president, Mrs. D. A. Floore, vice-president; Miss Lucy Kennedy, corresponding secretary; Mrs. McDaniel, recording secretary, and Miss Pet Wisheart, treasurer.

Free Bibles and Testaments.

The Jefferson County Bible Society has a large number of Bibles and Testaments deposited at Dr. J. W. Wells' drugstore in Jeffersonstown, where they will be sold at much less than cost or given away free to persons not able to buy them. There are many nice books printed in English, German and Spanish and this is a great opportunity to get a Bible or Testament at a low cost.

To Open Blacksmith Shop.

J. C. Bruce has rented to J. B. Ford the building formerly used as a barn in the rear of his building on the public square, where Mr. Ford expects to engage in the blacksmithing business as soon as the work of repairing is completed. Mr. Ford closed his shop on Market street some time ago on account of ill health, and his many friends are glad to learn that he has improved well enough to engage in work again.

Green-Snyder.

Mr. Ernest L. Snyder and Miss Grace Green, of Bloomfield, were united in marriage by Rev. Mr. Harrison, of Fox Creek, yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the residence of Dr. J. W. Beard in Lyndon. Mr. Snyder is a progressive farmer and at present is a candidate for Representative from Spencer and Nelson counties. The bride is pretty and popular in her home county. Many friends in Jefferson extend congratulations.

Enjoyable Dance.

A very pleasant surprise dance was given Misses Lillie and Fronie Roth at their home. Refreshments were served. Music was furnished by the Morsey string band. Those present were Misses Katie and Lula Olges, Lula Genes, Katherine and Mary Bischoff, Katie and Lillie Tobbe, Lillie and Fronie Roth; Messrs. Henry Olges, Edward and Thomas Bischoff, Mannel, William and Eliza Morsey, William Kustes, Jarvey Miller, John and Carl Tobbe, Joe and Gus Roth, Mrs. Mary Tobbe, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Tobbe and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Tobbe.

Brick Building Condemned.

The old brick building in front of the postoffice in Jeffersonstown, it is said, has been condemned by the town trustees and ordered to be torn down.

Purchase Fine Jack.

Ben Yates and Ed. Shanks this week purchased from Albert W. Thompson, of Salem, Ind., a fine jack for $1,000. The animal is one of the finest in the country and Messrs. Yates and Shanks will make the present season with him in Jefferson county.

Preaching at Lutheran Church.

There will be Sunday-school at 9:30 o'clock and preaching at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, March 12, at Christ Lutheran church. Mr. P. Nielsen, of Louisville, will occupy the pulpit. All are cordially invited to come and hear this promising young minister.

Choral Club Meets.

The Jeffersonstown Choral Club of the Lutheran church held their regular monthly meeting last evening with a very good attendance and two additional members. The club is growing encouragingly. All are invited to meet with them every first Tuesday evening of each month at the Sunday-school room of the church.

Creamery Changed Hands.

The Jeffersonstown Creamery Company's plant and building and lot was sold at public auction last Saturday afternoon by E. R. Sproul, auctioneer, to John W. Tucker, of Louisville, for $2,550. This price is said to be very low for this property, as the machinery, etc., is in first-class condition and the company last year declared a dividend of 8 per cent. Of late, however, the creamery had been doing so well and on account of having too many stockholders, who could not agree on all of the methods employed by the managers, it was decided to dispose of the property. The creamery is now closed until Mr. Tucker gets his deed, which will require a few days to examine. We understand that Mr. Tucker will have the creamery in operation at an early date, will employ a first-class buttermaker and insure satisfaction to all patrons. There is no reason why a creamery can not succeed here, and it will if the farmers will support it.

Pink Tea For Mrs. Wm. Tharp—Score of Girls Organized For Sweet Charity—
Rev. R. H. Laird III.

St. Matthews, March 6.—A pink tea was given at the home of Mrs. Alfred Hite by the Ladies' Aid of the Beargrass church last Tuesday in honor of the minister's wife, Mrs. William Tharp. A shower of little things was presented to the pastor's wife, which was appropriated by a young heir, who made his first bow to the world March 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. James Veech and children have returned to their home, Indian Hill, after a year's stay at Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Bethel Veech have returned to their country place, Grey Holt, after an absence of several months.

That energetic body, the Ladies' Aid (which should more appropriately be called the "whole thing"), is actively engaged at present in making all kinds of useful and ornamental things for a bazaar to be given in the near future. Save your money to reward these faithful servants of the church.

One of our buds, Miss Mabelle Rudy, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Rudy, returning to Belle Wood Monday morning. This little stay brightens the home wonderfully.

Miss Mary Louise Eastland returned to Danville, after a short visit to her parents at St. Matthews.

A company of ladies from St. Matthews were entertained in a lovely manner, long to be remembered, by Mrs. B. F. Peary at Eastwood.

The sick and afflicted, downtrodden and oppressed have improved their condition so as to be visible again, but are still mopey and poky. Nothing has happened along the route worthy to be put on record (as the phonograph says). If they don't get lively soon, I have threatened to preach their funeral as dead to the world.

The Charity Score, quite a lively little organization of twenty girls, met with Miss Ollie Ashton last Thursday. This little band meets once a month to promote social interests. Each member contributes five cents as a free-will offering for any worthy cause. Refreshments are served, all have a merry good time and also pass on the good cheer to the unfortunate.

We are glad to welcome home to Springdale Mr. John Dichi, who spent the winter near Sanford, Florida.

It grieves me to report the sudden illness of Rev. H. R. Laird of acute indigestion. He filled his regular appointment at Goshen Sunday, being taken very ill that night. As this article goes into the Monday morning mail, it can only give his condition for that day.

Isn't it wonderful what a big place a little child fills? Our baby, Anna Ruth Simcoe, has gone back to "Daddy's," consequently A. B. C.'s house seems to have collapsed. You farmer's wives have had two men claiming one chicken—well, that's the situation here. I have some way been squelched. A. B. C.

SEATONVILLE.

March 6.—Miss Myrtle Johnson spent the week-end with her mother Mrs. S. E. Johnson.

M. S. Jean, of Louisville, and F. L. Jean and family were the guests of F. C. Jean and family Sunday.

O. E. Yeager and family and Mrs. John McMahon dined with Dr. J. W. Turner and wife Sunday.

K. S. Mills and family had as their guests Thursday night J. A. Tennill and family, Edward Welch and family, Arch Tennill and wife, Miss Lena Welch, of Washington county, Oran and Levi Frederick.

M. Stout and wife had as their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Will Fisher Mr. Mart Hornbeck and family.

Misses Myrtle Johnson and Ethel Mills; Messrs. Oran Frederick and Guy Mills attended the party at Miss Mamie Carrithers Friday night, and all had a fine time.

We regret that the Creamery at Jeffersontown has ceased operation. The school children miss their ride to

Pale-Faced Women

You ladies, who have pale faces, sallow complexions, dark circles under eyes, drawn features and tired, worn-out expressions, you need a tonic.

The tonic you need is Cardui, the woman's tonic. It is the best tonic for women, because its ingredients are specifically adapted for women's needs. They act on the womanly organs and help to give needed strength and vitality to the worn-out womanly frame.

Cardui is a vegetable medicine. It contains no minerals, no iron, no potassium, no lime, no glycerin, no dangerous, or habit-forming drugs of any kind. It is perfectly harmless and safe, for young and old to use.

The Woman's Tonic

"After my doctor had done all he said he could for me," writes Mrs. Wm. Hilliard, of Mountainburg, Ark., "I took Cardui, on the advice of a friend, and it helped me so much. Before taking Cardui, I had suffered from female troubles for five years, but since taking it, I am in good health. I think there is some of the best advice in your book that I ever saw." Your druggist sells Cardui. Try it.
